“ASBS” –BRASEA NEWS

We have included the coming dates for our 2020 and 2021 Auctions in this issue and please note a change to the 2020 Brisbane Auction to July 12th which means the Sth Qld Lawn Show will be July 11th – the short reason is that Moreton Council has advised we cannot have our usual date and gave us alternatives, so we have moved forward a week and trust this will not cause us too much discomfort – just watch your paperwork if you are involved with us in both the Sydney June and July Brisbane Auctions, as they are a week closer and the “Old Fella” will have to watch his game !!!! keep an eye on him

The re-new of memberships for the 2019/2020 year under the new combined name Association of Specialist Budgerigar Organisations (ASBS) – “BRASEA”, which covers everyone, has gone really well and we thank those who have paid early, which helps our planning forward in these difficult times. Our Sponsors, the small group that they are, have all stuck with us again, which this is a great achievement in the very hard financial times where it is difficult to get financial support from anywhere – another thank you – all this means its onwards and upwards or maybe forward for another year of our “Rares” programme ...

EVERY CLUB CAN HAVE A CLEARWING & CREST POINTS AWARD

if you want them for your Club’s Show, it is as simple as an email or phone call

In 2020 we plan to experiment with a change to the start times for the Auctions – the Halls will open at 7am as usual - the set up time will be from 7am to 9am (Saturday set up is unchanged at 2-5 pm in Sydney and 4-5pm in Brisbane) – Viewing will be from 8am and the Auctions will start at 10am – if you feel this is not ideal please let us know, but if there is no major problems beforehand, we will just let nature take its course from March 2020...

The usual BSNSW Branch which organises the BBQ, at the Auctions in Sydney, has a shortage of man power if anyone can assist even just a short break, please contact Carlo Arfi 0424 601 124 he will be most grateful – West Sydney Branch BSNSW retains all the proceeds of the BBQ (ASBS - BRASEA asks for nil) so please assist them

Trill™

Brings out
the best in your bird.™

TRILL™ TOPPERS™ are made with quality ingredients; pure honey and delicious toppings of carrot, peanut, apple and parsley – your bird will love these healthy treats.

Our TOPPERS™ also contain shell grit, which is a valuable source of calcium and essential for the development of strong bones and healthy muscles.

TRILL™ TOPPERS™ contain NUTRIVIT™

Seeds alone won't provide your bird with a complete diet. So TRILL™ contains a uniquely formulated multivitamin supplement called NUTRIVIT™ that combines Vitamins A, B group, C, D3 & E plus Calcium and Iodine.

A letter from Tony

Tony has come out strongly supporting Don's opinion on the way the show bird is developing at this time.

Dear Friends,

I have read with great interest a number of Don Burke's past articles sharing his discoveries regarding our feathered friends. Don most certainly has a way with words. Some I have taken with a pinch of salt, as I regard them as being common sense practices, and others like the enormous amounts of medication and sprays administered to his birds I found hard to believe.

His last write-up concerning the heavy head feathering on our beautiful show birds that Don finds so offensive I will come to. Young man I am absolutely, definitely and categorically on your wave length.

The idea of a huge amount of feathering, especially around the facial area will definitely be distressing for our birds. I am, by the way Don, one of those lingering old farts with the Banded Pies that you previously mentioned so fondly. A "senior cit" Like you said, there are still more Granddads out there, with their heads down breeding beautiful cage birds.

Now you have mentioned it what a wonderful addition to any show would a few well marked Banded Pies make. After all, they were "Aussie Made" in the first place and what a challenge.

To breed a good one is not easy, I have been there, but the end result for your labours is quite a stunning specimen.. I went through the process of breeding good type Banded Pied birds years ago and it was a real challenge. 70 years ago actually! Bottom line is they look stunning and we badly need another challenge on the showbench.

Getting back to the story in question, the great abundance of head feathering that seems to be on the cards for our Budgie showbirds. (as shown in issue 197 May 2019 page 9) These creatures are entirely at our mercy, like all the animals and birds that man seems to delight in changing from the norm.

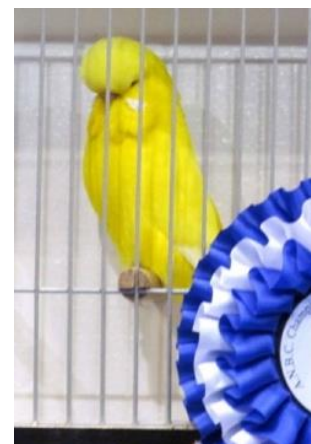

Given time there are lots of ways we can change things but the end result must be to the benefit of the bird or animal in question.. we don't want the budgie to end up like the Do-Do or flightless bird.

So, getting back to the larger head size.

Absolutely not necessary.

Anything detrimental to the way a bird is trying to exist is very wrong. Why the heck would you lumber our beautiful showbirds with a huge brow that the poor things can't see past.

Drinking, eating, cleaning themselves or even hopping from perch to perch would be a challenge for them.

Also mating would be very questionable. Try finding your way around blindfolded, that's what it amounts to. The very word that covers the realm of showbird exhibition is "smart" not ridiculous.

Don's write up on this matter could not be bettered, so I will leave it at that.

Lots of these ideas come from overseas, also the bad ideas with them. Let's leave them there. We are smart enough to know what sort of show bird we want to bench on this side of the water, so let's put a stop to them arriving.

We put up with the "flecking" fiasco, for years, introduced into this country from overseas. I considered that a disaster, plumage wise at the time. The abundance of head feathers seems to be following from the same part of the world. If the council don't put the lid on it the same thing will happen as flecking and again, we will have a great many unwanted show birds to find homes for. It's plain to see.

Our beautiful budgies are becoming less active to a very high degree, even over my lifetime and I feel the wonder of their flight will be completely lost, which would be a great shame. We can be kinder than to burden them with this handicap.

I hope that the Budgie Council front up to this looming problem pronto if not sooner.

Take care

Tony Piercy

Happy Birthday Tony

By the time you get this magazine Tony will be celebrating his 88th Birthday (July 27th) In those years he has clocked up over eighty years of bird keeping, having started his journey with some canaries under the guidance of his grandmother. He had expertise in breeding "Scarlets" (Scarlet breasted parrot) finches, canaries, goldfinches, budgerigars and specialised lines of poultry prior to coming to Australia. His special interest among budgies was the Banded Pied, which he bred successfully many years ago. He delights in telling a story about a Violet Banded Pied with a perfectly straight band that he was very proud of. The bird injured itself in the centre of its band. The older ones among us will remember when every scrape and sore was treated with Gentian Violet (often referred to as "purple paint") Tony treated the bird with it but in the process painted a perfect circle in the middle of the band. He then took his "new variety" along to his club to show it off..... eventually admitting what was really going on.

Since retiring from budgies and setting up a large aviary for finches he has acquired a few pairs of budgies to attempt to breed Banded Pies again.

Thank you the Rares Club of WA and Tony for this great article

Amethyst Budgerigars

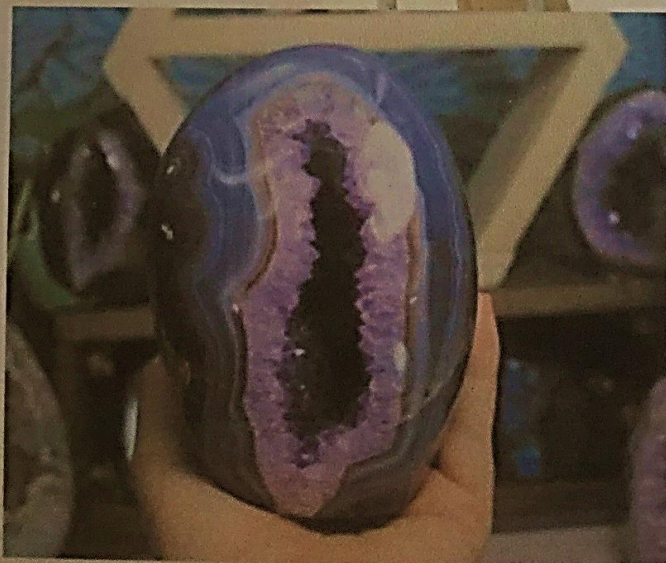

The Amethyst Budgerigar is very new, and still quite rare. Like the beautiful Amethyst gemstone, Amethyst budgies are a pinkish or reddish-purple colour.

This is an Amethyst Clearwing budgerigar. The white wings set off the pink or red purple of the body colour very nicely indeed.

Amethysts also occur in other budgerigar varieties such as: Rainbows, Fallows, Texas Clearbodies, Dilutes, cinnamonwings, and recessive and dominant peds.

Exhibition classes for Amethysts exist within the Australian Heritage Budgerigar Association, and the main judging criterion is that the bird that is most visible pink or red wins.

This is a piece of Amethyst gemstone. Notice the Amethyst crystals on the inside of the polished ball. Amethyst is a reddish or pinkish purple type of Quartz.

Comparing the Amethyst Gemstone with the Amethyst budgerigar shows remarkable similarities in colour.

With thanks to the Heritage Budgerigars (AHBA) 64 St Elmo Pde KINGSGROVE NSW 2208 enquiries by Facebook or Bob Pitt's email robertpitt47@icloud.com phone 02 9150 5875 annual membership is $20 for this article and it will certainly make Clearwing/Rainbow/Gokldenface Breeders happy

The members of the Australian Heritage Budgerigar association are building up numbers of this spectacularly beautiful variety of Budgerigar for distribution to other members of the AHBA.

Genetically it is a Red - Purple Cinnamonwing Clearwing. Red - Purple itself is also a very new colour in budgerigars, it is far more intense and redder in colour than previous older - style Violets. Older - style violet budgies lack the reddish overtones in their body colour, and they also lack the intensity of colour as well.

The sex - linked cinnamonwing gene has been used to dilute the blue component of the body colour in the Red - Purple Clearwing, leaving the pinkish or reddish tones of the Amethyst. In the case of Fallow Amethysts, the Red - Violet colour has again been added to the clearwing gene, but the dilution of the body colour is done by the Fallow gene itself. Similarly, with the Amethyst Texas Clearbody, the Clearbody gene itself dilutes the Red - Violet to Amethyst - Cinnamonwing is not used at all.

Rainbows also come in the Amethyst colour. They are identical to the Amethyst clearwing, with opaline and Australian goldenfaced blue genes added. Dilute Amethysts are Red - Violets diluted by the dilute gene itself, with no cinnamonwing or clearwing genes involved.

This group of Rainbow budgies features Amethyst Rainbows at the top left and also below at the lower central position. Note their light Pinkish-Purple colour. These are spectacularly beautiful budgies.

Breeder's Quality

GOLDEN COB™

Since 1895, we have been producing the GOLDEN COB™ Breeder's Quality range of seed mixes, to provide Australian birds with the nutrition they need for health & vitality.

A diet of seeds alone is typically low in essential nutrients, but GOLDEN COB™ seeds are coated with our unique vitamin & mineral enriched oil, to provide:

- ✓ Vitamin A – important for healthy immune system & good eyesight.
- ✓ Vitamin D3 – to assist calcium absorption.
- ✓ Vitamin E – for reproductive health & increased fertility.
- ✓ Iodine – for healthy thyroid function.

GOLDEN COB™ Breeder's Quality range developed by reputable breeders & avian experts, includes specially formulated products in 5kg & 20kg packs.

“BRASEA”

WBO PROPOSED COLOUR STANDARD FOR THE DOUBLE FACTOR MELANISTIC SPANGLE - 2019

SPANGLE LIGHT GREEN (already approved in 2001)

General body colour:	rump, breast, flanks and under parts light green of an even depth of colour throughout.
Mask:	buttercup yellow, ornamented by six evenly spaced large round black throat spots with yellow centres, the outer two being partially covered by the base of the cheek patches. The buttercup yellow of the mask extending over the frontal and crown, to merge with the black undulations at the back of the head. The frontal and crown should be clear and free from all markings.
Markings:	on cheeks, back of head and neck; black with a well-defined buttercup yellow edge and on wings each feather being buttercup yellow in colour with a black inner edge and a buttercup yellow outer edge. All markings should be free from any intrusion of body colour.
Cere:	blue in cocks, brown in hens.
Eyes:	black with a white iris.
Cheek patches:	violet, silvery white or a mixture of both.
Primary wing flights:	buttercup yellow with a minimal black edge.
Primary tail feathers:	buttercup yellow or yellow edged with black.
Feet and legs:	blue/grey, fleshy pink or a mixture of both.

MELANISTIC SPANGLE LIGHT GREEN (already approved in 2018)

General body colour:	rump, breast and under parts light green of an even depth of colour throughout.
Mask:	buttercup yellow, ornamented by six evenly spaced large round black throat spots, the outer two being partially covered by the base of the cheek patches. Any yellow colour feathers in the spots is a fault. The buttercup yellow of the mask extending over the frontal and crown, to merge with the black undulations at the back of the head. The frontal and crown should be clear and free from all markings.
Markings:	on cheeks, back of head and neck; black with a well-defined buttercup yellow edge. All markings should be free from any intrusion of body colour. Wings are yellow with a line of black appearing 2-3 mm from the edge of every feather.
Cere:	blue in cocks, brown in hens.
Eyes:	black with a white iris.
Cheek patches:	violet.
Primary wing flights:	yellow with a black line close to the edge of every feather.
Primary tail feathers:	yellow or yellow edged with black. The shaft of the tail feather to be black.
Feet and legs:	blue/grey

DOUBLE FACTOR MELANISTIC SPANGLE YELLOW

General body colour:	rump, breast and under parts light green of an even depth of colour throughout, approximately 50% of the colour of the normal bird.
Mask:	buttercup yellow. The mask, frontal and crown should be clear and free from all markings.
Markings:	on cheeks, back of head, neck, no markings of any kind. Wings are yellow and any wing markings are considered a major fault.
Cere:	blue in cocks, brown in hens.
Eyes:	black with a white iris.
Cheek patches:	violet or silver white
Primary wing flights:	yellow without any markings.
Primary tail feathers:	Yellow without any markings.
Feet and legs:	light blue to light greyish

NOTE 1

The depth of body colour in D.F. Melanistic Spangle Yellow will vary in accordance with the base body colour it is masking

NOTE 2

The D.F. Melanistic Spangle White combined with any Yellowface or Goldenface mutation is recognised and the white colour will be suffused with yellow the shade of which will depend on the yellow or goldenface mutation involved.

NOTE 3 (already approved) The Melanistic Spangle variety may be combined visibly with other varieties.

NOTE 4 (already approved) The Melanistic Spangle is also known as the Danish Dominant or Cleartail.
